26 june:

Today:

I completed setting up the full project folder structure for both frontend and backend. On the frontend, I created a wireframe frontend. I also implemented file extraction into DuckDB and tested it using a sample CSV. Additionally, I worked on extracting data from PDFs.

Challenges:

I was initially unsure about the kind of summary expected from the LLM, but Nerella clarified that for me.

Tomorrow:

I'll start working on the FastAPI backend to handle file processing and query execution more robustly.

1	One
2	Two
3	Three